Dul pleads no contest to misdemeanor

No trial for Romulus man in fire-solicitation case

A 25-year-old Romulus man pleaded no contest to a misdemeanor charge of being a "disorderly person" after he was brought to Wayne County Circuit Court Monday to stand trial on felony charges of attempting to solicit another to burn a city election candidate's campaign trailer just prior to the November 1976, election in Romulus.

Michael Dul originally had been brought to court by detectives of the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol on a charge based on an obscure law passed shortly after the 1967 Detroit riots which makes it a felony for a person to solicit another to commit a crime.

According to officers of the sheriff's road patrol, Dul allegedly had "dared" friends to burn mayoral candidate James C. Stewart's campaign trailer only days prior to the trailer actually being torched in a clear-cut case of arson on Halloween morning 1975.

The trailer torching had been termed a "political dirty trick" by supporters of Stewart, and the Stewart campaign version story of the burning was broadcast on television just prior to Stewart's 14-vote victory in November.

According to a friend of Dul, the man was accused of the charges after it was discovered he had engaged in a session of exchanging "dares" with friends at a gathering in a Romulus home.

"The man was not serious, but was joking around like friends do at a gathering," said Robert Plank, a friend of Dul's. "Then he almost was tried on a law that the prosecutor didn't even know was on the books."

Officers of the sheriff's road patrol declined to say Dul was tied in with the actual burning of the trailer, and admitted their case was "pretty flimsy" when it went to court.

"All the parties involved agreed to the misdemeanor charge because the witnesses were vague on their recollection of the incident and the evidence was weak," said an investigating officer. "It was difficult to establish that he had any guilt under the felony charge despite the fact the trailer burned after he allegedly had asked others to do it."

However, the development is the first since the Halloween torching which apparantly aroused enough public sentiment against former Mayor Terry L. Troutt to nail down Stewart's 14-vote victory.

Since the November campaign, court tests of the election by Troutt and his attorneys have reduced the margin of victory to five votes.

Plank said Dul was in no way associated with the Troutt campaign. Plank is a former city employee and was a member of the Troutt campaign effort.

After the burning, Troutt campaign officials offered a reward for information leading to the arrest of the person or persons involved in the burning and also offered Stewart the use of Troutt's main campaign headquarters near Five-Points in Romulus.

The Stewart committee rejected the use of the headquarters.

The investigators in the arson case said that it was not considered closed with the action brought against Dul, and said they still had suspects in the actual torching of the trailer.

The last information investigators released on the case indicated that police were going on the assumption that the torching was actually a Halloween prank, possibly committed by juveniles, and not part of an organized political campaign effort.

The investigation had centered on Romulus High School, where detectives were tracking down rumors that some students at the school had bragged about committing the arson as part of a prank.

Death takes Rev. Cline

The Rev. Grover Cleveland Cline, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Romulus, died Monday evening, according to a member of the church.

Funeral arrangements for the long-time and well-respected Romulus resident were being handled by the Penn Funeral Home in Inkster, but were not complete at press time.

Among the survivors are Rev. Cline's wife and daughter.

The family resides at 11323 Wahrman Rd., Romulus.

Meal fit for a ...

Orlando Gladyness, a seventh-grade student at Romulus South Junior High School, serves choir director Bob Turner a meal as part of a project by special education students that called for preparing luncheons for faculty members at the school. The April 14 event was designed to show the students they can be somewhat independent even at their age and to instruct them on some of the intricacies of food services. The 75 faculty members who participated in the luncheon rated the cooking and the service "excellent." — Romulus Roman photo.

Easter bunny pays a visit

Four school aides who supervise students' free periods at Romulus' Wick Road Elementary School banded together last week to provide a special treat for their charges.

Aides Janice Plesiewicz, Wendy Edmondson, Charleen Sapienza and Lauri Good pooled some of their earnings to purchase some Easter treats for students.

The "Easter Bunny," alternately "played" by Mrs. Plesiewicz and Mrs. Edmondson, toured classrooms in the building just prior to the April 15 dismissal of classes for the Easter holiday and passed out treats to the pleasantly surprised youngsters.

Principal Eugene Barr gave his approval to the idea after being approached by the aides, according to Mrs. Plesiewicz.

The aides' regular duties include supervising recess and lunch periods so as to give teachers some extra time to prepare materials for instructing the children.

Aides Charleen Sapienza and Lauri Good, along with Mrs. Plesiewicz and Mrs. Edmondson, donated the "treats" to the youngsters they supervise at recess during the regular school year. The "Easter Bunny" made rounds of all the classrooms at the school and the lunchroom just prior to classes being dismissed for the week-long Easter holiday. — Romulus Roman photo.

Road construction to cause detours

Freeway construction in the Van Buren-Romulus area is expected to force drivers to alter their driving habits during the next few months.

Major projects which are continuing are the I-275 and I-94 freeway systems serving the area.

Construction of I-275 in Romulus and Van Buren Township is expected to cause detours and closings of roads to accommodate work schedules designed to pave at least a three-mile road portion of the freeway this year.

The roadbed between the I-94 freeway in Romulus and the Penn-Central Railroad overpass in Canton Township is expected to be hard surfaced this year, but may not be opened to traffic.

In conjunction with the I-275 project, overpasses on Hannan, Ecorse, Tyler, Eureka and Pennsylvania roads will be under construction.

Interchanges also will be under construction at Eureka and Ecorse roads.

Although the construction along the I-275 route is expected to be a detriment to area drivers, some developments along the route of the I-94 modernization are expected to improve driving conditions.

Though users of the freeway will not be affected by the construction, in Van Buren Township; residents will notice new developments along the service drives, including the opening of a temporary westbound south service drive between Denton and Rawsonville roads along the I-94 freeway.

The drive had been closed to traffic since the end of the summer due to construction of a drainage route under the freeway which required excavation.

A temporary route is expected to be opened within the next few days.

Users of the south service drive route between Belleville and Haggerty roads will be affected by construction of a new roadway to complete the transportation plans for that area of Van Buren Township.

Traffic may be detoured to other routes to accommodate construction.

On the north side of the freeway between Belleville and Rawsonville roads, work crews will continue their progress toward construction of a rest area at the midway point between the two interchanges.

Work on the rest area is not expected to affect traffic along either the freeway or service drive.

Work should be completed on the Washtenaw County side of the Rawsonville road overpass for the Ford Freeway, opening four lanes of roadway to traffic.

Construction along the I-94 route is expected to complete that project this year.

Township residents can expect to receive a "bonus" from the construction, since it will require tearing up the old freeway route between Rawsonville and Belleville roads for the construction of a new service drive.

Cement taken from the roadbed will be used to fortify causeways carrying both Belleville and Denton roads over the Belleville Lake in Van Buren Township.

The causeways will improve the roadbed for the two road courses to allow their widening in the future.

Murder suspect to stand trial

A Romulus man is scheduled to stand trial in Wayne County Circuit Court on charges of first-degree murder in the bludgeon slaying of a 23-year-old Wayne man.

Boyer, an employee of the Speedway Service Station on the corner of Wayne and Van Born roads in Romulus, is accused in the slaying of Clarence Ralph St. Charles, 23, also an employee of the station, sometime during mid-morning of April 5.

AUTO FACTS

Pulled up through the oil pickup from the pump, the oil in your car is pumped through the filter into two main systems of oil galleries. From there it travels in several directions. Some moves downward to the crankshaft's main bearings and the connecting rod bearings. The cylinder walls are lubricated by oil passing through the connecting rods and spraying from either end of the wrist pin. Other oil is pumped upward into the camshaft bearings, through the valve lifters and pushrod channels to the rocker arms.

Organizers prepare plans for 2nd Spring Trade Fair

Belleville and Canton organizers of this year's second annual edition of the Spring Trade Fair are hoping the event at the Van Buren 4-H Fairgrounds will be bigger and better than the first one scheduled last May.

Organizers from the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce and the Canton Chamber of Commerce are expecting 150 displays to be on hand at the fairgrounds for the May 21-23 event.

New this year will be exhibits of handicrafts and arts and a special concession for growers of bedding plants, vegetables and flowers at the fair.

The organizers are hoping that local participation will be increased in this year's event. Last year's fair did not feature many booths from area businesses, particularly in downtown Belleville.

The annual event is designed to offer business people from throughout the Western Wayne County area an opportunity to sell their retail goods in a trade fair atmosphere, and manufacturers a chance to inform the community about the business they conduct to serve the communities they locate in.

Although 150 exhibits are expected to be on hand this year, space still is available at the fairgrounds for any interested businesspeople.

Information on obtaining space at the fairgrounds can be obtained by either calling the Belleville-Area Chamber of Commerce at 697-7151 or the Canton Chamber of Commerce at 453-4040.

Special this year will be food and entertainment offered in conjunction with the fair.

Local businesses and service clubs are being encouraged to set up refreshment booths throughout the fairgrounds.

Entertainment will be conducted in the arena area of the fairgrounds.

The major entertainment source this year is expected to be the Wayne County 4-H Development Committee's horse show, which will feature english, western and halter classes in the demonstration along with special classes which the organizers say are "crowd pleasers."

The Wayne County Development Committee of the 4-H is headed by Dan Sandman, director of the Centennial Educational Park School Farm of the Plymouth Community School District.

Members of Girl Scout Senior Troop 364 of Romulus gave the Easter Bunny a helping hand last week, treating more than 100 youngsters to an afternoon of fun and Easter egg hunting. The hunt, staged by Scouts Daphne Emmons, Michele Zavitz, Jackie Maner, Sheryl Kosmalski and Diane Buggy, was held at the Henry Ruff-Beverly Park last Friday. Counting up the eggs she collected is Angie Becker (above), 4, of Ecorse Road, Romulus, while (at left) 16-month-old Stacy Horwath of Niagara, Romulus, asked ANP Chief Photographer Lothar E. Konietzko if he'd like an egg.

South service drive to close to traffic

Van Buren Township residents may find it a mess tomorrow when the south service drive of the I-94 freeway is closed due to construction.

The Michigan Department of State Highways and Transportation has notified township officials that the drive will be closed to traffic between Haggerty and Belleville roads for one month to permit the construction of a new service drive. The old drive will be open only to emergency vehicles during that period.

Motorists are advised to find alternate routes.

BHS circus benefits band equipment buy

Tickets are available for two May 1 performances of the Voorheis Bros. Circus to be held at the Belleville High School Gymnasium.

The circus is scheduled to perform at both 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. May 1 as part of a fund-raising effort for new band equipment for the Belleville High School bands.

Billed as a small circus, featuring national entertainment which participates in some of the larger circus performances that tour the nation, the Voorheis is geared to playing indoors "out of dirt, wind and rain" according to Col. Bill Voorheis, the impressario of the show.

Dennis Miller, conductor of bands at Belleville High School is handling local arrangements for ticket sales for the circus.

Johnson promotes charity Golf Day

Romulus resident John L. Johnson of Homefield Street is among members of District 29 of the United Steelworkers of America planning the 7th annual Charles G. Youngglove Kidney Golf Day, set for June 19-20 at the Sunnybrook Motel Bowling Lanes and Golf Course in Sterling Heights.

The union is hoping to raise $40,000 from donations and the sale of golf and raffle tickets for the Kidney Foundation of Michigan.

About $25,000 of the money the union hopes to raise will be used to underwrite the foundtion's program to teach school children about the importance of blood pressure to their health. Another $10,000 will support foundation research to study the relationship between blood pressure and the kidneys, and the remaining $5,000 will be earmarked for the purchase of a fourth vacation kidney machine for free loan to home-trained kidney dialysis patients throughout the state.

Those persons interested in purchasing tickets or donating to the golf day can contact Harry Lester at 388-1300, or write the United Steel workers of America District 29, 7000 Roosevelt, Allen Park 48101.

Judiciary ignoring evidence in rulings

"A judge," wrote the late Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter, "should make some forecast of the consequences of his action. To pierce the curtain of the future."

Two recent decisions by the Federal judiciary illustrate how far removed they are from Frankfurter's view that a judge should have some regard for the consequences of his decisions. The two recent decisions also illustrate how the fundamental foundation of law — evidence — has ceased to be the basis for rendering judicial decisions.

On Wednesday, March 25, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled 5 to 3 that black victims of job discrimination should be granted special seniority even if it gives them an advantage over previously hired workers should a layoff occur. Thus, the high court has sanctioned the dangerous and explosive doctrine of "reverse discrimination."

The decision is likely to have as far reaching an impact on the social fabric of our society as the 1954 Supreme Court school desegregation decision that has kept our society in turmoil for over a quarter of a century.

In effect, the court has ruled that race is the basis for preferential treatment in employment because of past discrimination. Yet the evidence presented to support the charge of discrimination by employers is highly suspect.

It is almost impossible to prove discrimination since each case involves lack of aptitude, professional qualifications, and other factors. But the high court never challenged the alleged evidence presented to prove "a pattern of employment discrimination."

The second case involved the U.S. Court of Appeals ruling five days before the Supreme Court decision, upholding what can only, again, be termed "racism in reverse." By a 5-to-4 decision, the U.S. Court of Appeals ruled that the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) can order reductions of lead in gasoline although the hazard to public health has not been proven.

The court argued that EPA, as created by Congress, was not a body that should wait until the alleged damage to human health had occurred before acting. Thus, the EPA is empowered to enforce regulations on, or outright ban, lead in gasoline, and asbestos fibers, vinyl chloride, and pesticides such as DDT, aldrin, and dieldrin.

In each of these cases, evidence against the substance — as a danger to human health — has been less than conclusive and open to argument for an against. In fact, in some cases, the EPA findings have been open to political pressure by environmental activists and even outright doctoring of scientific evidence.

Such may have been the case involving the EPA air quality study published in 1974, which found that sulfer-bearing fuels were a hazard to human health. It has now been discovered that the head of that study, Dr. John F. Finkles, who is no longer with EPA, may have deliberately altered, doctored, or distorted the data to prove EPA's case! Congressman Barry Goldwater Jr. (D-Calif), took the House floor on March 17 and demanded of EPA, the Comptroller General of the United States, and the Office of Budget Management a full-scale probe of this potential scandal. In a series of letters to all three agencies and to the chairman of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, Goldwater raised a critical issue. "The executive, legislative and judicial branches have relied rather heavily," he wrote, "and in good faith on the conclusions and recommendations of the sulfur oxide portions of the (EPA) report."

Thus, the ominious facts and circumstances are as follows: The Judiciary is making landmark legal decisions without regard to hard, concrete rules of evidence, some of which has been either falsified or distorted to conform to the bias of political activists. In either case, the junking of evidence by the Federal judiciary is a form of political pollution that poses a moral health hazard to the entire system of this Republic's rule of law.

Handicapped hurt by thoughtless acts

By MAUREEN RADEMACHER
Enterprise-Roman Staff Writer

If I ever catch you — I mean you able-bodied, healthy but inexplicably lazy folks — parking in a zone or parking space designated for the handicapped, I'm warning you now that you're going to get the worst tongue-lashing I can muster.

Every time I pull into the parking lot at Meijers Thrifty Acres in Canton Township or the newly built LaFlorentina's Restaurant in Westland, I see the four parking spaces at the front of the parking area, clearly designated for the handicapped, filled with cars.

I never seem to see the people who parked there, but being rather a pessimist about such things I'd be willing to bet that they are not handicapped.

They are merely thoughtless.

They don't know that some people — people who can get around but who must use a cane, or a walker, or even a wheelchair — have reconciled themselves to a lifetime of staying at home because it's a long, solitary walk from a distant parking spot to the entrance of a store or restaurant.

There are a lot more handicapped persons around than most of us think. For a long time, I was surprised to see a person in a wheelchair going into a store, restaurant or public building. That's because in the past it has been made very difficult for them to do so. These persons are not, of course, the majority of shoppers, and neither are they the only people who fit into the category of being handicapped.

There are others who fall into the disabled category who are not as noticeable as wheelchair persons. Since I've become conscious of such things, I've noticed increasingly the persons who must use a cane, or the arm of a friend, of a "walker" made of aluminum, or a brace, to be sure of their steps. They are mobile, many can and do drive cars, and many would like to venture out by themselves.

They are the victims of multiple sclerosis, polio, severe arthritis or rheumatism, muscular dystrophy, or other disabling diseases. They can and do get around, but perhaps tire easily, or walk slower. Some people are simply elderly, and in need of a bit of support.

These people do not want to stay home just because it takes them a while to walk from one end of the store to the other. But that walk through the store would be a lot easier if they didn't also have to walk from one end of the parking lot to the other.

New state laws mandate that buildings be made accessible to the handicapped. This means that parking spaces close to the building be marked as reserved for the handicapped. Handicapped persons also are permitted special license plates that bear the universal symbol of the disabled — a wheelchair — and this is their ticket to those designated parking spots.

Yet I know a handicapped person — who gets around ably, but often must use a cane — who is stuck at home too many times simply for the fear that when she arrives at the shopping center she will not get a parking space close to the store. The walk inside the store she can just manage, but add onto that the journey from the lot to the store and she stays home.

Able bodied persons must become aware of those others, those people who number more than you think. It is bad enough when a shopping center does not have spaces designated for the handicapped. But where there are such spots, there is a hope that these people can use the facilities that you and I take for granted.

When you pull into a parking space designated for the handicapped, you are the reason that the person I just mentioned had to stay home that day, or wait for a friend to driver her to the store and drop her off at the door.

Now that the weather is nicer, perhaps you — you able-bodied persons — will respect the handicapped parking. But maybe even now you'll be too thoughtless, or pretend you don't see the sign. And you'll comfort yourself with the rationale that "there aren't going to be any handicapped persons who need this space. I never see a handicapped person in this store."

That's because you're scaring them away.

Township urged to stay with plan

To the Editor:

It appears the citizens of Van Buren Township will be faced with a referendum vote on the rezoning of the McMullan property for high density multiple dwellings as the promotion skids seem to be well greased.

The question presented to the voters also will probably be well prepared and presented in a very palatable manner such as suggesting that taxes will be reduced or held at present levels due to an increased tax base. Las Vegas has prospered for years under the guise of a person being able to get something for nothing.

Undisguised, this project is hopefully pursued by investment interests and commercial business interests seeking return on investment.

This question has been put to us before: Are we in the northwest corner in favor of rezoning the northeast corner if it will benefit us personally by hopefully lowering our taxes (at the expense in living conditions of those in the northeast corner).

Federal government loan backing has been available to developers for some time for developing apartment complexes. Could it be possible our income tax dollars are being used to back this promotion? We should at least investigate this possibility.

To our knowledge, the proposed development will necessitate a doubling of our law enforcement capability. The degenerate history of such apartment complexes indicates a steady regression over the years into units that no longer attract retirees and young single couples. The investor has had to rely on aid to dependent children and rent from two families per apartment unit to complete his 20-year plan.

Van Buren Township and its natural resource (the lake) is presently a beautiful area to reside in. We elect officials to preside over our business affairs and manage our residential areas because we have faith in their carrying out our plans.

It simply is not true that it is necessary that a majority of persons working in an industry must have residences near that industry. Industry draws employees. Industries in the area prove that employees will travel a considerable distance to their work. We also know that an industrial tax base is much more desirable to the economic needs of the township than an apartment tax base.

The referendum vote should really be presented to us as whether we wish to stick together as a unified township and retain our zoning laws or vote against each other on opposite ends.

The professional planners developed a good, unbiased long-range plan. If we are going to "prime for progress with pleasant living," we should stick with it.

Student wants 'same chance as parents'

To the Editor:

As you are probably aware, the millage which was up before the Lincoln School District on April 12 did not pass.

I was wondering if I could get an answer to a question. Why did the adults of our community, who don't even attend our school, mercilessly cut out all our extra-curricular activities with no thought at all to all the students who devote many after-school hours to sports, drama and other activities?

I don't think many people realize the consequences of their actions on April 12. With 20 percent of the money we had this year, there is no way the schools can offer even the three "Rs."

We weren't asking for a new school, a new swimming pool, or expanded programs. All we want is enough money to run the schools properly. We are being deprived of an education. Don't we have a right to a decent education like our parents who already have graduated?

This year Lincoln met the requirements of North Central Accreditation. However, if our programs are cut, we will lose our accreditation and graduates from Lincoln won't meet college requirements. I have been planning for college since eighth grade, and now am I to understand that the citizens of Lincoln are not going to allow me to fulfill my dreams by going to college and making something of myself? Don't I deserve the same chance my parents had?

I think the seemingly heartless citizens of Lincoln Community should reconsider their decision when the chance comes again to determine my future as well as the future of their children who attend Lincoln.

Sumpter man needs support

To the Editor:

This is an open letter to the citizens and officials of Sumpter Township. You people have a man in your township that last year donated a lot of time and talent into helping more than 100 boys to play baseball. This year he needs your help into making sure those same kids have a decent place to play. He is helping to mold the future of your boys. Get behind Mr. Verne Clark and show your appreciation.

Fair-share tax-cut proposal explained

To the Editor:

Recent editorials have raised some questions about the Michigan Citizens Lobby's petition drive to cut taxes for middle income families and retired taxpayers. Here are the answers to those questions.

First, the taxpayers of this state have a right to be angry. By a large majority, we voted in 1974 to eliminate the four percent sales tax on food and medicine. The following year, the state govenment took back part of the tax cut we voted ourselves by raising the state income tax. The Lobby's Fair Share Tax Cut Proposal would give back to all middle income and working families and retired taxpayers that full tax cut. We must show our representatives in Lansing that the taxpayers of this state must have the final say in what taxes we pay.

Second, the fair share plan would cut the state income tax for every middle income and working family and retired taxpayer in Michigan. In all, 85 percent of the state's taxpayers would have their tax burdens reduced. The following families would receive tax cuts: single people earning less than $24,500, two-person families earning less than $26,000 three-person families earning less than $27,500, four-person families earning less than $29,000, five-person families earning less than $30,500, and so on,

Third, the Legislature would be prohibited from turning around and hitting middle-income taxpayers with another tax to make up the revenue lost through this tax cut, Under the fair share plan, the Legislature would be constitutionally required to replace all revenue lost by increasing the tax rate on upper-income families who can best afford it,

Fourth, the purpose of the fair share tax cut plan is to end the "soak-the-middle-class" tax system in Michigan, not to "soak the rich", We are only seeking to get the wealthy to pay their fair share, which will lighten the tax burden on the rest of us.

Michigan's current tax system is horribly unfair and unjust. Many middle-income families are forced to pay as much as 50 percent more of their earnings in state and local taxes than many wealthy people. The fair share plan would eliminate this inequity by replacing our present income tax with a two-step tax — one higher rate for upper income families and a different lower rate for the rest of us.

Since this middle-class tax cut requires changing the Michigan Constitution, it can only be brought about by a vote of the people. Currently the Citizens Lobby is circulating petitions to collect the 325,000 signatures to put the fair share tax cut proposal on the ballot.

It's time we stopped complaining about our "soak-the-middle-class" tax system and did something about it. And we need your help to do it.

Economic disaster predicted

To the editor:

Strike, strike, strike. Many people want more and more money for less work. And the inflation is going up The poor are getting poorer, and the rich are getting richer and sicker.

America is approaching an economic disaster never conceived by anyone. The American economy is very sick, and all the Republican presidential candidates can talk about is more defense spending and detente. They don't have any detente with the American economy and they're not worried about that.

American cities like Rome are burning, and Ford and Reagan are playing the same violin which the Republicans have been playing for years and years. And while America is being consumed by the flames of inflation and higher wage prices, Ford and Reagan like Nero play on their violins.

Less and less people are working for more and more money today, and inflation still is rising. More and more people are being thrown onto the welfare rolls. In the meantime, the people who are working are trying to kill the people, who aren't, by forcing their own wages to go higher and higher.

Half of the people working in America are earning less than $3 an hour while a group of people who are earning more than $7 an hour are demanding a raise of almost $3 per hour.

Can you imagine what they will cost every unemployed and employed person in America at the supermarket? And that may be only the beginning of the killer wage spiral.

Paper lauded on stand

To the Editor:

Your editorial of Wednesday, April 7, "Let's Stop Stealing from our Children" was most revealing and very appropriate at this point in our nation's history. It deserves republication and nation-wide circulation. Particularly should it be brought to the attention of our lawmakers and politicians, for we cannot keep spending more public money which has to be borrowed for future generations to repay.

You emphasize that in the past 40 years, our national debt has increased from $33.8 billion (now more than 10 times) and that taxpayers have since paid more than $34.2 billion in interest alone without reducing the principal one cent.

As a member of a pioneer family which helped carve western Wayne County out of the wilderness in the middle 19th century, I too with many others ask "what it's going to be like in 2016 A.D."

You are heartily commended for your stand on this subject which is so vital to our future.

Subsidizing academic freeloaders questioned

Panax Opinions

By PATRICK BUCHANAN

WASHINGTON — Six weeks ago Treasury Secretary William Simon, speaking in New York to an audience of public relations professionals, dropped a few paragraphs which have been causing secondary explosions since.

Businessmen might take a close, critical look at the foundations and colleges they support with corporate funds, he suggested. They should "find out if the subjects of that generosity are really assisting in the fight to maintain our freedoms or if they're working to erode them ... otherwise the largesse of the free enterprise system will continue to finance its own destruction."

Within the academic community, the reaction was what one might expect of a basement full of junior high school girls who just learned their slumber party would be visited by the Hell's Angels.

His suggestion is a "throwback to the 1940's, when superpatriots tried similarly to impose their own orthodoxy on American education," thundered The New York Times. "Mr. Simon's misguided appeal betrays a shocking lack of understanding of academic freedom and its indispensable role in the safeguarding of society."

Poppycock. It was not the Simon suggestion that betrayed a "shocking lack of understanding of academic freedom," but that editorial. Academic freedom involves the right of teachers to instruct and scholars to inquire freely, in areas of their own expertise and competence. It does not entail any right to be subsidized by the business community.

The treasury secretary did not recommend any academic purge of those professors reluctant to genuflect before the name of Exxon and Mobil Oil. He suggested simply that businessmen exercise discretion, judgment in making their tax-deductible corporate contributions.

No one would expect Jewish businessmen to contribute blindly to a college which harbored anti-Semites on the faculty, or blacks to pony up for white "academies" sprinkled across the Sunbelt. Why then should businessmen, principal beneficiaries of the free enterprise system, subsidize some university where the economics department, say, is in the grip of Marxist or Socialist professors.?

This is a "vigilante approach to corporate support of higher education," protested Roger Heyns of the American Council on Education, in a letter instructing the treasury secretary that, "The untrammeled pursuit of truth is the hallmark of higher education."

Well, on some campuses, perhaps. But there are others where intolerance is the hallmark of higher education, where dissent from the conventional leftist wisdom on urban policy, genetics or Vietnam is shouted down from the podium and disrupted in the classroom. There are schools within this country where professors and graduate assistants feel they have a right to impart their ideology along with their courses and grades, where you will find fewer conservatives in departments of history or philosophy than Chicanos lounging around the pool of the Congressional Country Club on an average Saturday afternoon.

Tens of billions of dollars have been poured into education in the last dozen years and taxpayers, businessmen and alumni have a right to an accounting.

We are turning out high school graduates who can neither read, write nor reconcile a bank statement. We have on our campuses thousands of over-privileged academic freeloaders who take for granted the freedoms they enjoy and plaster their subsidized dorms with posters of Mao, Che and Uncle Ho. No one's academic freedom is violated, no one's constitutional rights are imperiled, if businessmen decide the time has come to cease subsidizing nonsense.

Dems seen as making most of Watergate

By JEFFREY ST. JOHN

WASHINGTON — "We may have a difficult time in the presidential race as it is," asserted Virginia Republican Sen. William Scott. "The difficulty may be made more so by the fact that the Democrats will continue to raise the specter of Watergate."

The above statement was contained in a speech Senator Scott recently delivered before the state convention of Young Republicans. It was the first time that a leading Republican said in public what most party officials have been discussing in private: the use of Watergate as a political whip against President Ford.

Senator Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) surfaced the issue in a subtle way in an April 7 Pittsburgh speech before a labor group when he attacked "the Nixon-Ford administration." Tying Mr. Ford with the former President has the White House deeply worried but less because of its use by the Democrats. Rather, the administration is anguished over the powerful argument it provides the Reagan forces!

In fact, we have learned exclusively from sources here close to the Reagan campaign that an "active and spirited discussion" is underway among key strategists of the former California governor whether to "go public" with a campaign that links Ford with Watergate, the pardon of Nixon and his defense when he was vice-president. Prior to the Illinois primary, Reagan briefly raised the issue and the effect, politically, this might have on Republican fortunes in November, but, for reasons unknown, quickly dropped it.

Now the Reagan forces are having second thoughts on the issue, arguing that the Democrats have stayed away from tying Ford to Nixon until after Ford secures the nomination so that it would not give the Reagan forces a powerful weapon to wrest the nomination away from the President. Sources on Capitol Hill, moreover, report that Reagan's strongest supporter, Sen. Jessie Helms (R-N.C.), is helping the Reagan camp to prepare a strategy if and when Reagan decides to unleash a fresh assault on Ford prior to the May 1 Texas primary.

The effect such a Reagan campaign would have on Ford could be shattering. Republicans who either favor Ford or remain uncommitted are being reminded of the shattering political impact Watergate had on the 1974 Congressional races and the extensive GOP losses sustained by the party. Advocates in the Reagan camp have reluctantly concluded that despite the lack of firm evidence that Mr. Ford was in any way associated with Watergate, the pardon by the President of Mr. Nixon will prevent him from escaping the political consequences at the polls in November.

Scott in his speech pointed to the world premiere of "All the President's Men," a film based on the best-selling book by the Washington Post reporting team that broke the Watergate story, as evidence that the Democrats plan to use Watergate as a campaign issue. The star of the film, Robert Redford, is a liberal Democrat who is suspected of working closely with influential members of the Democratic National Committee to gain maximum political mileage out of the film. The sequel to "All the President's Men" is the book, "The Final Days" that has had unprecedented pre-publication press coverage prior to the conventions this summer and is expected to be on the top of the bestseller list during the fall Presidential campaign. It is asserted by the authors Bob Woodward and Carl Bernstein that Democratic Senate Majority Whip Robert Byrd (D-W.Va.) has insisted the Democrats want Ford to be nominated in order to use the Watergate issue. Whereas if Reagan is the nominee, it would have almost no credibility as a campaign issue. Significantly a phone call by this columnist to the leading Democrat in the Senate Watergate investigation, retired North Carolina Sen. Sam Ervin, found the normally talkative Ervin flatly refusing to say anything about the use of Watergate as a campaign issue by the Democrats.

Scott contends that the use of Watergate against Ford as a political issue is unfair. Which is true. But neither the Humphrey Democrats nor Reagan Republicans are concerned with fairness, with the promise and allure of political power that produced Watergate in the first place.

Candidates no longer neglecting Michigan

Panax Lansing Bureau

LANSING — The benign neglect of Michigan by the presidential candidates is over as the May 18 presidential primary draws into the national spotlight.

In 1972, the state was noteworthy because of the tremendous showing made here by Alabama Gov. George Wallace as he drew 52 percent of the total vote — his biggest margin ever up north.

This year the Wallace drive seems to have lost much of its steam and the state could be a crucial turning point for the front running candidates. It is noteworthy, among other reasons, because it is the next primary in which all the big names clash on a statewide basis.

The Pennsylvania primary now receiving more attention does not involve a statewide popularity vote, but instead is a contest at the state senatorial district level between candidates committed to one candidate or another. Indiana also precedes Michigan, but Morris Udall is not entered there.

The official kickoff here of the Democratic campaign was the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner held in Detroit which saw the appearance of all but Washington Sen. Scoop Jackson. The clear winner in terms of crowd reaction was Udall, who drew by far the warmest response from the Democratic faithful.

It also saw the endorsement of Jackson by several labor leaders, including AFL-CIO State President William Marshall, who demonstrated with a slip of the tongue that his loyalties still lie with Hubert Humphrey.

The United Auto Workers, by far the most potent single force in the Democratic Party when it is united, appears to be sitting the primary out. Insiders say that's because there is a split at the very top of the union hierarchy, with President Leonard Woodcock supporting former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter and Doug Fraser, the chief political operative, supporting Udall.

Detroit Mayor Coleman Young has come down on the side of Carter.

Michigan is the last stop on the primary trailsin a major state before the "Super Tuesday" of primaries on June 8 when California, Ohio and New Jersey all hold simultaneous primaries to allocate more than 500 delegates. Thus, the candidate who wins here will go into those states with some of that elusive commodity known as momentum, whatever that is worth.

Symons bill would legalize casino gambling in Michigan

Panax Lansing Bureau

LANSING — The ill-fated California trip of a group of Allen Park high school students could lead to the legalization of casino gambling in Michigan.

It would be legal to hold Las Vegas nights where casino gambling is permitted for charitable purposes, according to a bill introduced by State Rep. Joyce Symons, D-Allen Park.

At the present time such fund raisers which are conducted by many community organizations are illegal under the state's strict gambling laws. Local police departments are put in a position of having to either crack down on the charitable givings of well-intentioned community members or having to turn their heads and let the law be violated.

It started with the plans of a group of Allen Park High School students to take a class trip to California last year.

To raise money for the trek west, the students and their parents planned to hold a Las Vegas night where the community would purchase play money which they would use to play the same games of chance that are played in the gambling spas around the world.

Play money winnings would be used for redemption toward merchandise and some cash prizes.

The Allen Park police chief turned thumbs down on the students' plans and told them they could not violate the law.

Feeling that Las Vegas type nights are a healthy and enjoyable way for raising money for community projects, the Allen Park police chief approached Mrs. Symons about changing the law to permit such affairs.

Her bill would allow local groups to apply to the State Lottery Commission for a license to conduct a maximum of two "millionaire" or "Las Vegas" parties a year. It would limit prizes to a maximum of $500 per individual, with a $1,500 maximum in total prizes.

According to her bill which has been approved by the House Judiciary Committee and is awaiting final action by the full House, only play money could be used as the medium for gambling. Players would have to be at least 18 years old.

Mrs. Symons said, "This just legalizes what already is a permitted practice in many areas. There are many VFW, Elks and other lodges which are using this as a means to raise money."

"People can give their money and have fun while doing it," she said.

Weather's harbinger of destruction

Tornadoes: Knowing what to do helps

It's often been described as sounding like a freight train, and in a matter of seconds it can tear down what has taken years to build.

A tornado can hit swiftly and suddenly, leaving death, devastation and misery in its wake. It sometimes appears unannounced; other times it's predictable. Either way, the results always are the same.

Any victim of a tornado will tell you it isn't a pleasant experience. You're lucky if you survive. But knowing what to do when a tornado strikes literally can mean the difference between life and death.

The tornado season in the United States started last month and will run its course through the early fall. The midwest, south and southwest portion of the country are the areas usually hit hardest by twisters, so some knowledge of what to do can be a life saver.

Warnings about tornadoes fall into two categories and are issued by the National Weather Service. Caused when rising warm air meets with colder air in the atmosphere, tornado watches and warnings are issued, depending on the conditions.

Watches, the most prevelant warning issued in Western Wayne County, are posted when a tornado may be expected to develop. Its more serious counterpart — a tornado warning — means a tornado has been sighted.

When the weather bureau issues the latter warning, persons in the areas affected should take cover immediately. Those persons living near that region should keep tabs on the weather and take cover if threatening conditions develop.

The American Red Cross also has listed five precautions that should be taken in case of a tornado:

(1) Seek shelter in a storm cellar, underground excavation or steel-framed or reinforced concrete building.

(2) At the office, go to an interior hallway on the lowest floor, or to a designated shelter area. In the factory, workers should move to the section of the plant offering the most protection.

(3) At home the basement offers the greatest safety. Persons in homes without basements should seek cover in the center part of the house on the lowest floor in a small space, such as a bathroom or closet, or under sturdy furniture. Some windows should be left open on the side away from the expected tornado, but persons should stay away from them.

(4) In schools, students and personnel should go to an interior hallway on the lowest floor. They should stay out of auditoriums, gymnasiums or other structures with wide free-span roofs.
If a building is not of reinforced construction, they should go quickly to a nearby reinforced structure or a ravine or open ditch and lay flat.

(5) In open country, where there is no time to find suitable shelter, persons should lie face down in the nearest depression while using their arms to protect their heads. Don't take shelter in an automobile.

While the directions sometimes may sound confusing, the point to remember is this: Take cover immediately on the lowest floor. The wind speeds of a tornado increase with height, doing a maximum amount of damage on the top floor of a building.

A research team from Lawrence Institute of Technology's department of architecture have come up with several other points dealing with tornadoes, after visiting several areas within days after being hit by tornadoes.

According to the report, long hallways that have glass at each end — similar to hallways in many schools — can be turned into wind tunnels filled with "high-powered" debris when a tornado strikes. Walls erected as barriers between the hallways and the entrances can cut down on the wind force considerably.

Also brought out in the report was that the south and west walls of homes and buildings receive the full brunt of tornado's force, with the exterior wall coverings — bricks, siding, glass — being blown into the interior. The east and north walls can be blown out — much like a ballooning effect — when the windward partitions are penetrated.

The survey also showed that roofs with steep slopes are less vulnerable to uplifting by the storm as opposed to flat roofs, which can be blown sideways. Concrete roofs have a better resistance to uplift because of their weight.

Attended shower

Friends and reliatives were on hand last week to shower Denise McCollum with gifts for her new home during a bridal shower at the James Meredith home on Harmony Lane in Belleville. Miss McCollum will wed Lawrence Ellis at St. Clement's Episcopal Church of Inkster Saturday. On hand for the party were Valerie Wright (from left), Joyce Lewis, Kimberly Clark, Miss McCollum, Pamela Fowler, Janette McGruder, Yolonda Solomon, Janna McCollum and Lorna McCollum (in front).

Pre-nuptial showers fete bride-to-be, Miss McCollum

Several pre-nuptial parties have been in the offing for Denise McCollum who will wed Saturday at St. Clement's Episcopal Church of Inkster.

Miss McCollum is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McCollum of Harmony Lane, Belleville.

On the past three weekends, Miss McCollum was the guest of honor at parties, the first given by the Hannah Middle School of East Lansing. She is on the staff of that school.

A personal shower was given by her bridesmaids and the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority in East Lansing, and a miscellaneous shower was held last Sunday at the James Meredith home on Harmony Lane, Belleville. Some 70 women from Detroit, Belleville and the surrounding area attended the latter party.

The bride-to-be, who will marry Lawrence Ellis, received many gifts to furnish her new household.

For the shower, Miss McCollum's wedding colors of gold and white were used in the decorations — the ribbons on the wine glasses to gold rose bud ice cream for dessert.

The hostesses for the occasion were Doreitha Armstrong, Vivian Clark, Elva Gamble, Jacqueline Hawkins, Thomasena Hymes, Evelyn Meredith, Essie Shelton, Alderene Solomon and Betty Terry.

Among those present at the shower were the mother of the bride-to-be, Thelma McCollum; Miss McCollum's two sisters, Janna and Lorna; her fiance's mother, Jean Ellis; her two grandmothers, Virginia Covington and Juanita Barber, and several of her former teachers — Mary Ellen Hewitt, Mrs. Ollie Smith and Mozella Idleburg.

The bridesmaids' farewell luncheon was held April 10 at the Country Squire Restaurant in Flint by the bride-to-be. Her wedding colors also decorated the table and in her cake was favors and "fortunes".

Ford wives to meet

Officers will be elected

The April meeting of the Ford Wives Club, to be held Tuesday, will be the annual election of officers.

The slate of candidates were presented at the March meeting by Peggy Lippman, nominations chairman. The candidates are:

—For president, Margaret Fulton and Jo Shoenfelner;

—For vice-president, Dolores Hausch and June Hildebrandt;

For recording secretary, Shirley Littlepage, Verna Bivens and Virginia Turza;

—For corresponding secretary, Eleanor Bosman and Mildred Reska; and

For treasurer, Nellie Northey, Margaret Parker and Mae Weber.

The installation will be held May 25 at a dinner at the Hyatt Regency in Dearborn. The program will be held following the 6:30 p.m. dinner that evening in the Bugatti Suite. Members are invited to attend the meeting, if they are unable to be at the installation dinner.

In addition to the election of officers, there will be a change in program. Patricia Burnett had been scheduled for the May meeting, but was unable to attend. However, she will be at this month's meeting. Her visit will deal with her role as portrait artist. She will do a portrait demonstration using a club member for the subject.

The meeting will begin at 7:45 p.m. in the Ford World Headquarters Bldg. on Michigan Avenue at Southfield. Members should use the north entrance.

The members also are planning on an April 30 Mystery Night and a special United Airlines tour and lunch on May 17. The installation dinner winds up this season's activities for the Ford Wives Club.

4 Glovers pay visit to Orlando

A 1-week visit by his wife, Barbara, daughter, Patricia, and granddaughter, Dawn Annette, helped cap a Florida visit for Fred Glover of Ecorse Road, Romulus.

The trio recently flew to Orlando, Fla., to visit with the Glovers' son, Lloyd, and his family. Seeing them off at Detroit Metropolitan Airport were Dawn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Glover of Westland, and her 4-year-old brother, Daniel Jr.

At the Orlando airport the Michigan visitors were met by the two Glover men. While in central Florida, they visited with the younger Glover, his wife, Kathy, and their two children — Tommy, 2½ and Tracie Lynn, 10 months.

During the visit the group swam in the Atlantic Ocean and visited an orange processing plant, Disneyworld, relatives and friends and Yebor City in Tampa, the old Spanish quarter of the community.

The return trip to Michigan was by car, with the Glovers travelling on the Blue Ridge Parkway through the Carolinas and Smokey Mountains where, according to Mrs. Glover, spring is "in full bloom."

Perfect partners

Pork and potatoes are perfect casserole partners. Pork, both fresh and smoked, offers a wide variety of cuts for tempting casserole dishes.

Pork and cubed steaks are one of the best, though less familiar, possibilities. Simply brown them, whole or cut in strips and bake atop or stirred into a pasta, bean or rice casserole.

Farm Bureau Women attend spring meet

Local women who attended the Spring District No. 3 meeting of the Michigan Farm Bureau Women (FBW) April 6 were Mrs. Laverne Sayre of Ecorse Road, Mrs. James Sayre of Morton Taylor Road and Mrs. Caryl Smith and Mrs. George Robson of Tyler Road.

Monroe County Farm Bureau Women were hostesses for the luncheon meeting held at a rural Methodist church in Monroe County.

Regional representative Harold Shaw of Lansing was guest speaker, his topic being, "Blue Cross-Blue Shield."

An added attraction at the meeting was a quilt on display from the Monroe Historical Museum, which had been made by the Monroe FBW, depicting scenes of historical buildings in Monroe.

TALKING IT OUT with Harold Rediske
UHT Memorial Funeral Home

Harold Rediske

Are your finances in order?

You're going to earn a lot of money in your lifetime; perhaps as much as $400,000 or more.
Financial planning is part of your future security program. You may have thought it out well in advance — planning for retirement income, college trusts for children and grandchildren, and many other important events to come.
But if you were to die tomorrow, would your financial matters be in order. Would your wife or immediate family members know where everything is? What should they do first? Unfortunately, most of us do not even think of such things or talk about them — let alone plan for them!
Here are some tips in the form of questions you may wish to use as a check list ... some things, perhaps, you may not have thought of attending to till now.
Is your insurance coverage up-to-date? Payments on schedule, beneficiary or beneficiaries designated according to your wishes? Are your insurance policies, Social Security and Veterans' papers all together and in a safe and accessible place. And does your wife (or husband) know where they are?
Do you have your will updated?
Do you keep a list of names, addresses and phone numbers of your broker, agents, savings account numbers, etc. in a safe and accessible place? Does your wife know where that list is? Who besides your wife? And do they have the necessary access to it?
There are many other pertinent financial and personal details that become extremely important to your family should you die. You really should make a personal check list of your own. Give a copy to your wife and-or other members of the family. (If you don't have such a list in mind, stop by and pick up a sample at our funeral home.
(This is one of a series of short articles I hope will be helpful. We welcome your questions — in private or publicly through this column.)

Interlochen to host writing workshop

Teachers in Western Wayne County will have a chance to take part in a special writing workshop, funded by the Ford Foundation and staged by the Interlochen Arts Academy at Interlochen, Mich.

The workshop for junior and senior high school English and writing teachers will be April 29, 30 and May 1.

Because of the foundation funding, registration fees for the 3-day event will be only $5.

Fifteen prominent secondary and university writing instructors, including Walter Goodman, the Arts and Leisure editor of The New York Times, Michael Spring, editor of The Literary Cavalcade and director of the Scholastic Writing Awards, and William Meredith, nationally known poet and Guggenheim Fellow, will be taking part in the program.

The workshop sessions will feature such varied presentations as songwriting, censorship, playwriting, journal keeping, the small press movement, entering contests and the writing of poetry, fiction and articles. Also included in the workshop agenda is 40 films and poetry readings to be conducted by professional writers and students at the Interlochen academy.

According to a spokesman for the academy, participants, in addition to "acquiring skills, sharing expertise and developing a community of exchange so vitally needed among high school teachers," will be allowed to "fully share in the total Interlochen experience," the most prestigious high school setting in the nation for training young students in the fine arts.

The workshop will be limited to 60 participants, and early registration is a must, the spokesman added.

For more information on the workshop, teachers can contact Loretta Sharp, coordinator, the Interlochen Writing Teachers Workshop, Interlochen Arts Academy, Interlochen, Mich., 49643.

Monthly meeting planned

Home arts unit surveys antiques

Antique auctions was the topic at a meeting of the Home Arts Club of Belleville recently.

Barbara Rogalle Miller spoke and exhibited several pieces of fine porcelain from a family collection for the April 12 gathering.

She explained that the values of antique auctions not only include an educational experience, but teach a person what currently is being collected and the price being paid. She said most experts advised a person to concentrate on one item in becoming an antique collector rather than expanding into too many fields.

Detroit and the surrounding area were prime spots in the Midwest for the antique market, she added. Belleville is included in that statement since monthly antique auctions conducted in "theater-in-the round" style, are held at Rogalle's Lounge.

Heirlooms and aged items brought to the meeting by members included a Centennial plate and handwoven bedspread, a carnival glass dish, stick pins and delicate pendants, decorative cups and a folding rocker with its original tapestry.

In the absence of the president, Beverly Eichold presided at the business session which 20 members and two guests, Mary Loria and Pat Kruger, attended.

Program committee members Avis White and Jean Ferguson announced plans for the May 10 banquet which will be held at The Landmark Restaurant of Belleville. Punch will precede the 7 p.m. dinner for which members and their guests are urged to wear Bicentennial costumes, if at all possible.

Virginia Turney, Betty Gott and Elaine Habel, members of the nominating committee, distributed ballots for the annual election. The results will be announced at the closing banquet.

Using an Easter theme, including several handmade ceramic eggs, Marilyn Prill, Vera Nolff and Agnes Elliott, served dessert, tea and coffee at the close of the program.

Huron Health Day to be held May 5

Huron Health Day is fast approaching as the Huron Health Committee prepares for its annual community-wide checkup, set for May 5.

The annual clinic will be held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, located at Craig and Ellis streets in New Boston, and will run from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. that day.

Immunizations available will be for German measles or rubella, regular measles, DPT and DT, oral polio and mumps. Skin tests for tuberculosis for volunteer food handlers cards also will be aviable.

Other checkups offered at the clinic will be vision screening, urine tests and literature on the kidneys, blood preassure, weight and height and Pap smears for cancer detection. The latter test will be provided by a unit of the Michigan Cancer Society.

A Red Cross bloodmobile also will be on hand to collect blood donations.

The clinic is free, however, donations are welcomed and will be used for a college scholarship fund. Residents are invited to take advantage of the Health Day program.

'LAY DOWN YOUR ARMS ...AND DISPERSE.'
The date: April 19, 1775. The time: 5:00 A.M. At this moment the American Revolution began.
During the long night before, Captain John Parker had assembled his force of 77 Minutemen on Lexington Green. Their arms were whatever guns and pistols they had in their homes. Their uniforms were the rustic clothes of the farmer or tradesman. The odds against them were 10 to 1.
Now, in the chill dawn, Parker and his men watched grimly as the first disciplined ranks of a force of 700 Redcoats advanced onto the green and formed a battle line. Parker realized the hopeless odds, swiftly turned and ordered his men to disperse.
Suddenly the silence was split by a single shot. Instantly a volley roared from the British ranks. The War of the Revolution had begun. Another volley and the Redcoats charged. Ranks of bayonets gleamed like steel pickets in the early light. In a whine of musket balls, the patriots scattered, leaving eight of their number dead and ten wounded.
The British had no casualties, but their gloating was short-lived. By noon, Parker and his men were firing at a British army in panic-stricken retreat.
Today, the statue marking the battleground in Lexington, Massachusetts is a memorial to Captain John Parker and his small force of patriots. This commanding bronze figure stands as an inspiring symbol of America's hard-won heritage of freedom, and is the modern symbol of Sentry Insurance.

"Even if the cigarette tested had 60% more tar than MERIT, a significant majority of all smokers tested reported new 'Enriched Flavor'™ MERIT delivered more taste."

—American Institute of Consumer Opinion

Extensive taste-testing with thousands of smokers shows 'Enriched Flavor'™ MERIT delivers more taste than higher tar brands.

The bottom line was conclusive: In a series of taste tests conducted for MERIT by the American Institute of Consumer Opinion, smokers from all across the country judged MERIT to have more flavor than five leading low tar cigarette brands.*

What's really startling—and of major importance to all smokers—is that MERIT has less tar than these five brands.

Less tar. Yet more taste.

That's the report on a remarkable new taste process called 'Enriched Flavor.' A way to pack tobacco with extra flavor without the usual corresponding increase in tar.

'Enriched Flavor.' It's exclusive to MERIT. The cigarette with only 9 mg. tar, one of the lowest tar levels in smoking today.

MERIT MENTHOL is packed with 'Enriched Flavor' too. And in similar tests, 9 mg. MERIT MENTHOL was reported to deliver as much —or more—taste than the 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar menthol brands tested.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough. Now smoke the cigarette.

MERIT.

County approves members' community grant plans

An application for $1.9 million in federal Community Development Block Grant funds has been approved by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners on behalf of 24 outcounty communities.

Meeting April 2, the board authorized the application to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, which last year provided the county $637,000 under the program that then included 18 members in the community coalition.

Twice the dollar amount is expected this year since seven new communities have been added to the group, according to Commissioner John Lesinski, chairman of the Public Works Committee.

"We expect that every community which benefited last year will receive at least the same amount of funding," Lesinski said. "Actually we're fighting to double those dollars and we think that chances are in our favor."

In the program, eligible applicant counties with more than 200,000 population organize smaller member communities — those under 50,000 population — and file an application on behalf of the entire group.

Most of the money received last year was applied to recreation projects like parks and neighborhood playgrounds, senior citizen services, and improvements on storm drainage and water mains.

Stage band earns No. 2 rank at fest

The Romulus Senior High School Stage Band walked away with a No. 2 ranking after competing in the recent Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association Jazz Ensemble Festival in Roseville.

The band, under the direction of Ralph Miller, collected two twos and a one for the final rating of two in the competition.

Three judges graded the bands on tone, ensemble performance, interpretation, rhythm and intonation.

According to Miller, the judges described the Romulus band as "a good looking group."

"You play with a good tone and well rehearsed sound," they added.

"This is a very controlled band. Congratulations on a fine job with top lierature."

Miller said the group "has come a long way since the beginning of the school year," adding that "none of the stage band members had any stage band experience before they began playing this year."

Setback

Getting ready to unleash the ball is Glenn righthander Wayne Hodgkins whose bid for a Northwest Suburban Conference victory was foiled by Detroit Thurston last week. Hodgkins was the victim of a 3-0 shutout as his mates failed to provide him with the hitting support. The loss left the Rockets holding an 0-2 record as the teams break for the Easter vacations.

Shocker

Glenn shut out by Thurston, 3-0

Sports

By TOM MOORADIAN
Eagle Sports Editor

Coach Norm Hoenes can still force a smile.

"We're just not getting the hitting," the Glenn baseball coach said after the Rockets took it on the chin 3-0 from Detroit Thurston. "But we'll be all right.

Hodgkins did a good job,"

"Hodgkins did a good job," Hoenes continued. "We only had four hits to support him, and in this game you have to hit to win."

Hodgkins, (Wayne) went the distance in his first league start, struck out five and walked only two in twirling a six-game game. However, he gave up a couple of runs in the fifth and one run in the first which proved to be his undoing.

The loss left the Westlanders sporting an 0-2 league and a 1-5 overall record on the season.

Glenn has a busy schedule planned for the holidays. They met Livonia Stevenson on Tuesday, then face Cherry Hill for a doubleheader on Wednesday while clashing with Romulus for two games on Friday.

Thurston's Dave Hofelich was in control all the way as he scattered four hits—a first inning double to Eric Borsvold, and singles by Kevin Sanders, Mark Grabowski and John Stafford.

The Thurston hurler notched three strikeouts and walked one.

Earlier, Garden City East, the defending Northwest Suburban Conference champ, crushed the Rockets 9-2 behind pitcher Bob Hudson's four hitter. Hudson whiffed eight and walked four.

Craig Duncan started for Glenn and worked the first five innings to take the loss. He was relieved by Jeff Ludwig who threw the final inning.

The Panthers collected a total of 14 hits.

Glenn cut into East's 5-1 lead in the top of the fifth when Larry Schroeder singled home Borsvold who also had singled and moved to second when Sanders walked.

The Rockets put their final run on the board in the sixth inning when, with two away, Sanders singled, advanced to second on a walk to Schroeder and raced on thanks to Grabowski's single.

Glenn coach is WSU grid clinic speaker

Lloyd Carr will be one of four outstanding area football coaches who will contribute to the second annual Wayne State University Football Clinic.

Carr, whose 1975 team at John Glenn won more games than any other in the school's history, was the 1975 Class A regional Coach of the Year.

Carr's topic for the clinic is: "Defensive Practice Organization and Drills." He has been the Westland high school's coach for the past three years.

The clinic will be held Sat., May 1 at the Matthaei Building, Wayne State University. There is a $5 pre-registration fee, ($6 at the door).

Other prep coaches who are on the agenda include: Bob LaPointe (Divine Child), Ivy Loftin (Royal Oak Dondero), and John Dean (Detroit Northern High School).

Registration fees should be mailed to Dick Lowry, football coach, Wayne State University, Detroit, Michigan 48202 or call 577-4288.

Local softballers play in California

Three outstanding high school girls' softball players are on their way to Palm Springs, Cal., for pre-season softball training.

The three are Joanne Pachiva, Nancy Jimenez and Val Finfrock. Miss Jimenez and Miss Pachiva were members of the Daly's Restaurant team that captured the women's state Class D fast-pitch championship last year.

The three girls will be accompanied by their manager Bob Thompson, a veteran Westland softball coach.

Miss Finfrock is one of three rookies invited to make the trip. She was selected as the athlete of the year at Stevenson Junior High School.

The girls will be the guests of Mr. and Ms. Paul Solina while they are in California.

Tentative practice games have been arranged to augment a twice-a-day practice session.

"We'd like to really concentrate upon improving our hitting," Thompson said. "Most of our success a year ago was due to our defensive play, so we'd like to get more hitting this year."

Daly's posted a 12-3 won-lost record in winning the state championship.

Belleville presents Medley with win

With their sprinters and hurdlers "doing the job," Belleville's trackmen presented Dave Medley with his first victory as the Tigers' head coach.

Medley, a former Belleville High track star, replaced Bruce Romant at the helm of the team this season.

The victory evened up Belleville's record at 1-1 in the Suburban 8 Conference. The Tigers dropped their opener a week ago to Edsel Ford, 72-60, the same score they beat Allen Park.

And how does it feel to be a winner?

"A lot better than losing," quipped Medley who will send his team up against the reigning Michigan State University Spartan Relays' champ, Ypsilanti, and Willow Run tomorrow at 1 p.m. (Belleville is the host.)

Medley pointed out that a "strong performance by the sprinters and hurdlers were keys to the victory over the Parkers."

Belleville's Mike Blazer remained undefeated in both the high and low hurdles as he covered the 120-yard highs in 15.5 to lead teammate Al Russell (15.9) to the finish, then he came back to win the 180-yard lows in 21.4.

Blazer also turned in a 23.8 to win the 220-yard dash, accounting for three of the nine Tiger first places.

Grand slam jolts Franklin

Dave Beebe's last of the seventh grand slam home run lifted Thurston to a 4-2 victory over Livonia Franklin in the Northwest Suburban Conference opener for both teams.

Franklin, which held a 2-0 lead going into the bottom of the seventh, saw its victory dissipate when starting pitcher Mike Flood loaded the bases on a pair of singles and a walk.

Coach Ron Hellier called upon reliever Dennis Smith to quelch the uprising, however, Smith was the victim of the season's first grand slam.

The Livonians put two runs on the board in the second inning when Tim Hollandsworth singled, moved to third on a double by Ken Scarpace. Both runners scored when Steve Tresik belted a single.

Hellier's Patriots evened up their league record at 1-1 as they came back to whip North Farmington 8-2 behind Al Castrodale's four-hitter.

Castrodale worked the first four innings, gave up two runs while striking out two. He walked one before Mark Wilkins took over in relieve.

Franklin went ahead 2-0 in the bottom of the second on a single by Darrel Gunther, Dan Pederson was safe on a fielder's choice, then stole second and moved to third via a catcher's throwing error.

Bill Longeway then walked and with men on first and third, Casterdale drilled a two-run single.

The Livonians made it a 5-1 ball game in the third as Ken Scarpace led off with a single, then proceeded to steal second and scored with Hollandsworth's single. Hollandsworth also stole second and was chased home by Tresik's base hit. Gunther's single drove home the base-runner.

Larry Urbeb's three-run home run with Scarpace, who had walked, and Smith, who had singled, aboard accounted for Franklin's three runs in the fifth.

"We looked impressive on the base paths," said Hellier. "We stole seven bases which set up a lot of those runs."

Legion baseball tryouts set

Baseball tryouts for the Western American Legion team will be held Saturday and Sunday, April 24 and 25 at the Rotary Park, located at 34801 Marquette, behind the Stottlemyer School in Westland.

The team, managed by Don Wright, will be co-sponsored by the Westland Youth Athletic Association and the Garden City Sporting Goods.

Tryouts will begin at 1 p.m. on both days.

There is one stipulation, however. In order to try out for the team, potential players must be residents of Westland.

"Because we are now affiliated with WYAA," said Wright, "we're going to have to stock our ball club with Westland players."

Legion ball is open to any high school player 18 years old and under.

Further information may be obtained by telephoning Wright after 6 p.m. at 728-9379.

Waterstone, Watkins play for Hope '9'

Jeff Waterstone, one of the baseball standouts two years ago at Livonia Franklin, and teammate Dave Watkins, are returning lettermen on the Hope College baseball team.

Waterstone, a 5-9, 155-pound junior, and Watkins, a 6-1, 185-pounder, sophomore are returning outfielders.

The Dutchmen won only three of 11 Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association games last year en route to a 10-16-1 over-all record.

En garde

Greg Benko, Wayne State University senior standout fencer, won his third straight NCAA foil title in 1976 to become only the third fencer to win three consecutive individual crowns and the second to make All-American all four collegiate seasons.

Benko, Yuri Rabinovich (saber) and Joe Znoy (epee) were voted the Outstanding Fencers of the 1976 Great Lakes Tournament by their fellow fencers.

Deceiving view

To twist a popular phrase a bit, what you see just isn't happening. Glenn's Kevin Sanders is rounding third base as Rocket Coach Norm Hoenes watches, however, Sanders didn't score because the play ended with a third out. Sanders got aboard thanks to a single, one of four Glenn hits in a 3-0 loss to Thurston, a Northwest Suburban Conference rival.

Belleville South edges North tracksters, 67-65

Making the most of their depth, Belleville South Junior High edged natural rival, Belleville North, 67-65, in the first dual track meet of the season for both schools.

"I feel the key to our victory was the hurdling and relay events," said South's David Bow. "We outscored them 17-1 in the hurdles and won two of three relays."

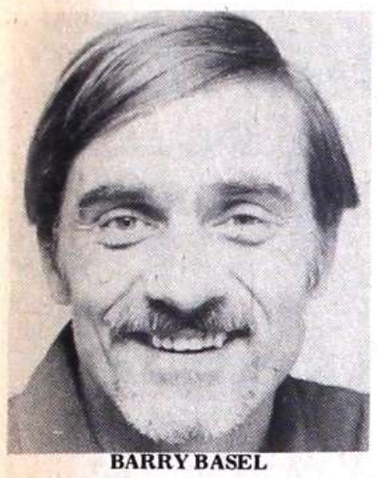
Glenn runs like a champ



BARRY BASEL

Westland John Glenn, the defending Northwest Suburban Conference track champ, crushed Garden City East 124-8 to reaffirm its candidacy for the league title.

Coach Barry Basel's Rockets have won five in a row this season and remain the team to beat in the area.

"We're satisfied with the progress of our team," said Basel, whose trackmen had a crucial test last night in the form of Dearborn Heights Robichaud. Robichaud is thinking about a Class B state title again this season.

"We know they're tough," said Basel about Robichaud. "It should be a good meet for both teams."

Earlier in the week the Westlanders got by Livonia Churchill 72-60 as Glenn amassed 10 of the 16 first places. Terry Bixler accounted for two of Glenn's firsts while Brian Hanna duplicated that feat for the Livonians.

Bixler leaped 20 feet, 7 inches in the long jump and ran a 10.1 for the 100-yard dash, the best time posted for the event this year in the area.

Hanna controlled both hurdle events, easily beating teammate Clint Durouche to the tape in the highs. He then came back to lead a Churchill sweep in the lows.

Saginaw Valley gets Franklin football star

Bob Picard, who helped Livonia Franklin capture the first Michigan High School Athletic Association state Class A football championship, has signed a national letter of intent to attend Saginaw Valley State College.

Picard, a 6-2, 210-pound offensive lineman, was named to last year's All-Area team and started for Franklin's state championship team for the past two seasons.

All-American is Glenn wrestling clinic speaker

Brad Smith, who recently earned All-America consideration as a member of the University of Toledo wrestling team, will be a guest speaker at the Westland John Glenn Freestyle Wrestling Clinic.

The clinic will be held 9 a.m. to 11 a.m., Sat., April 24 at John Glenn High School.

Smith, prepped at Romulus High where he led Coach Jim Stallings' Eagles to a fourth place finish in the state, earning all-state and All-Area recognition en route.

Smith is presently a sophomore at the University of Toledo and placed fourth at the recent National Collegiate Athletic Association Tournament.

"We're not charging anything for those who wish to attend this clinic," said Bob Lusk, John Glenn head wrestling coach who is the originator of the clinic. "Those who are interested should make arrangements to attend."

The gym will be opened at 8:30 a.m.

John Glenn wrestling fans should also be aware that the Glenn Booster Club will hold a Bingo Party at 6:45 p.m., Friday at the Wayne Ford Civic League.

The proceeds from the bingo will help send Glenn wrestlers to various summer camps.

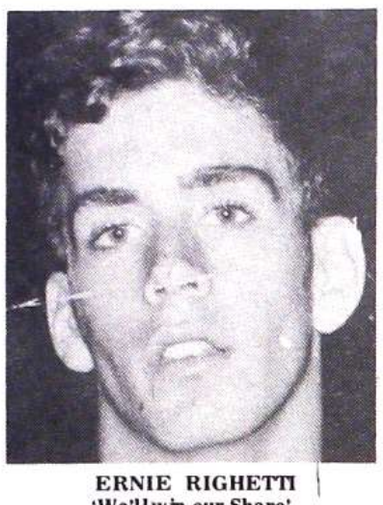
Wayne runners bow to Ypsilanti



ERNIE RIGHETTI
'We'll win our Share'

Despite some impressive individual Wayne performances, Coach Ernie Righetti's Zebras were no match for Ypsilanti.

Ypsilanti, a surprise winner at the recent Michigan State University Spartan Relays, captured 10 out of a possible 16 events, including all three relays, en route to a 75-57 non-league track and field victory.

"I personally felt we did quite well against them (Ypsilanti)," said Righetti, who is a former Wayne High track star and in his first year as head coach. "They won the Spartan Relays, so they have a well-balanced team this season.

"We're improving with each meet," Righetti continued, "and almost everyone improved on their times and performances. I'm sure this victory drought isn't going to last very long around here."

Wayne's Don Gotham had one of those impressive efforts as he tossed the discus 127 feet, 11 inches to win and set the Zebras' mark in that event.

Wayne had five other firsts, including the long jump captured by Rick Preston (20'2"), the pole vault, won by Jim Quinn (11'6") and the high hurdles by Bill Brown, who was clocked in 15.3.

John Lynch's 4:38.1 for the mile and an excellent 9(50.3 run by Kevin Miller in the two-mile accounted for the other two Wayne victories.

Wayne, as most of the other prep teams, has the week off for the Easter holidays. The Zebras will resume league competition April 29 at home at 4 p.m. when they host Wyandotte.

Your move, partner

Brushing up on their moves are these two members of the YMCA Spartan Wrestling Club which qualified more than 70 percent of its club members for the Southeast Michigan Wrestling Federation State Tournament. To qualify for the state meet, a wrestler had to finish in the top three in his age group and weight class at the regionals held at Bloomfield Hills Junior High. The Spartans took six first places, six seconds and one third place.

Spartans send 13 to state

The Spartan Wrestling Club, sponsored by the Wayne-Westland "YMCA," managed to qualify 13 of its wrestlers for the Southeast Michigan Wrestling Federation State Tournament.

And 13 is about 70 percent of the club, pointed out Eric Ellison, club spokesman.

"We're doing very well this season," Ellison said, "especially in the younger age group. We're somewhat of an unusual club in that we are very strong in the wrestlers 12 years or younger classification."

The Spartans qualified Dan Gibson, who took first in the 55-pound, 8-and-under, and Pat Dudel, who was second at 72-pound, also in that age group.

Representing the Spartans in the 11 and 12 age group will be Sean Roddy, first place at 75, Brian Rossler, first place at 90 and Bruce Rossler, first place at 105-pounds. Heavyweight James Nesbitt placed second.

In the 13 and 14 age category, the "Y" had four second place finishers in Paul Rossler (95), Shawn Lawson (105), Carl Winekoff (126) and Rick Winekoff (140).

Glenn girls track team overpowers Garden City

Westland John Glenn's title express in the Northwest Suburban girls' track league continued on its way as the Rockets crushed respectable Garden City East 66-48.

It was the second consecutive victory in the league for the Westlanders who are a heavy favorite to win the championship this season.

Glenn garnered eight of the 14 first places, including all three relays which turned the tide.

The Westlanders went with Cheryl Williams, Kathy McDougall, Kim Wintersteen and Karen McDougall in the 880-yard relay and the four-some responded with a 1:49.1 victory.

In the mile relay, Glenn's lineup included Sally Taylor, Rachelle Swanson, Leslie Chickey and Deb Everly. They covered the distance in 4:26.3.

Glenn's Kathy Lehman, Kathy McDougall, Kim Wintersteen and Karen McDougall set a record for the 440-yard relay when they were clocked in the winning time of 52.0.

Gals eye playoff crowns

MHSAA announces softball tourney sites

The line has been drawn for the 1976 high school girls' district softball tournaments.

The Michigan High School Athletic Association released the sites for the district playoffs which will be held the first week of May.

Local teams will see action in four districts: Trenton, Oak Park, Southfield and Milford.

Belleville will join Ann Arbor Huron, Ann Arbor Pioneer, Lincoln Park, Monroe, Southgate, Temperance Bedford, Trenton, Wyandotte Roosevelt and Ypsilanti at the district in Trenton.

Meanwhile, Wayne Memorial and Westland John Glenn are slated to see action at Southfield High where the host will also entertain teams representing Farmington, Farmington Hills Harrison, Our Lady of Mercy, Lathrup Village, and Southfield Lathrup.

Oak Park will host the four Livonia high schools - Churchill, Franklin, Bentley and Stevenson. The Parkers also will play host to Bishop Borgess, Thurston, Ferndale and Hazel Park.

In the only other district involving Class A teams from the area, Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton must survive the Milford playoffs in order to compete for the regional championship.

Milford's district also includes Brighton, Milford, Milford-Lakeland, Northville, Orchard Lake-West Bloomfield, Walled Lake Central and Walled Lake Western.

Inkster Cherry Hill has to battle its way out of the Riverview district in order to compete for the Class B regional title. Riverview will be stocked with teams from Divine Child, Riverside, Grosse Ile, Southgate Aquinas and Southgate Schafer.

Four tournament managerial meetings will be held for the purpose of reviewing tournament procedures and general tournament operations. One of the meetings is set for Thurs., April 22 at 2 p.m. at Dearborn High School.

Jack Johnson, Dearborn High athletic director, is the host.

Keeping him honest

Making sure that speedster Andy Rodriquez stays close to first base is Glenn's versatile athlete Todd Deluca who gets the throw from pitcher Wayne Hodgkins belatedly on this play. Rodriquez caused the Westlanders a lot of headaches last week as the Thurston slugger drilled three hits to spark the Eagles' 3-0 victory over Glenn in their first Northwest Suburban Conference matchup of the campaign.

Young Cherry Hill track club rips Riverside, 92-40

Loading its lineup with a score of younger athletes, undefeated Tri-River Conference track champ Cherry Hill raced past Dearborn Heights Riverside 92-40 in their league opener last week.

Cherry Hill is seeking its second consecutive league championship and coaches in the league agree that Coach Joe Grasley has the "team to beat."

The Spartans grabbed 10 of the 16 first places in their second straight dual meet triumph and they did it with mostly a sophomore and junior lineup.

"It was a good meet for us," Grasley commented, "because it gave us an opportunity to look at some of our younger athletes who are our team of the future."

Clarence Guyton remained undefeated in the hurdles as he accounted for two of the Spartans 10 victories. He was clocked in 16.7 for the high and turned in a 22.8 in winning the low hurdles.

Guyton's teammate Mike Smith also won two events. He hit the tape in 53.6 for the quarter-mile and was clocked in 2:03.6 for the half-mile.

Riverside's Paul Fichuk established himself as one of the top sprinters in the league as he dashed off a 10.4 in winning the 100-yard event, then came back with a 23.9 for a victory in the 220.

JOE GRASLEY
Another title year

The Spartan coach will keep his team busy during the holidays. He has his runners scheduled to meet Romulus and Westland John Glenn in back-to-back nonleague confrontations.

Glenn has a five-meet undefeated string and the meeting of the two powers could tell which is the No. 1 team in the area this season.

Wayne has 'lots of potential'

Jack Armstrong "is looking forward to a good season."

And the reason why the third year Wayne Memorial tennis coach is optimistic is because his lineup is loaded with excellent sophomore and junior talent.

"Though Todd is only a sophomore he has been playing in tournament competition and has excellent potential."

Armstrong noted that veterans Kari Walker and John Houle give the team the experience he is looking for. Houle however is sidelined because of an illness and should be back in action within 10 days.

Franklin crushes Thurston

If there is a team that could upset Westland John Glenn's plans to retain the Northwest Suburban Conference track title it's Livonia Franklin.

Franklin destroyed Detroit Thurston 95-37 last week as Coach Bob Holmes' Patriots tossed their hats into the championship circle.

The Livonians swept 12 of the 16 events against the Eagles. Franklin dominated all three relays.

Gymnast wonders about coverage of JHS tourney

Here a letter from a local gymnast who is obviously wondering what happened to our coverage of the annual Wayne-Westland Junior High School Tournament.

Dear Sir:

In a recent edition of The Eagle I found a picture in the sports section that really provoked me. It was a picture of three gymnasts from Adams, one of whom won the all-around competition in the city meet.

Well, that's fine that you people gave credit to her for doing a fine job.

However, what about Stevenson Junior High? Stevenson went through the season undefeated and won the city meet.

And all of the recognition we got was one sentence. I really feel that such an effort on part of a team should have been recognized.

Sincerely,
Cindy Justice

She's a queen

Coach Aldrich: "I feel we're legitimate net contenders"

A Northwest Suburban Conference tennis championship this year for John Glenn?

Could be, if the pieces fall into place for Coach Don Aldrich's netters.

And that isn't a big "iff," either.

"I feel we have a legitimate title contender," said Aldrich after his team trounced Thurston 6-1 for its second consecutive league victory. Earlier, the Westlanders destroyed Garden City East 7-0.

"Last year Oak Park captured the title after we beat them in a head-on dual meet," Aldrich continued, "however, they have departed for another league.

"We finished second, and this year we have a fine-looking bunch of players," Aldrich said.

If there is a serious obstacle in Glenn's title path it would have to be North Farmington. North was forced to drop tennis last year because of economics, however, the high school will field a team this year.

"North beat Churchill 4-3, the same score that we edged the Livonians by," Aldrich pointed out. "So we would have to say that they (North) have a respectable team this year."

Glenn launched the 1976 campaign with a 6-1 triumph over Garden City West, then took on Churchill and came out atop of 4-3 score. The Westlanders met arch-rival Wayne Memorial next and won a 5-2 decision before whipping out East and Thurston.

DON ALDRICH

The Rockets have two players who are unbeaten on the season. Dave Cook, an All-Area netter a year ago, has strung together five straight wins in the No. 1 singles while Ralph Cabildo has a 4-0 record in No. 4 singles.

Glenn, which has only two seniors - Cook and Mark Miller - in its lineup, has excellent talent in juniors Dave Terwillinger (4-1) who also was an All-Area netman last year, and Leroy Bliven.

Pat McBride and Gary Whited are sophomores who are commanding a lot of attention, while Aldrich is trying to fill the lineup with Tom and Ron Ruark, Don Giora, Dave Pearson, Larry McClure or Jack Henderson.

If Glenn should claim the title, it will be the first time in the school's 11-year-history that Rocket netters have ever won the league tennis championship.

Baseball tryouts Saturday

Saturday is the last day that players may try out for the Belleville-Van Buren Little League.

The organization urges all boys and girls who wish to play in its summer baseball and softball programs to report to the Belleville High School diamond.

Tryout sessions will be conducted from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m.

Parents also interested in helping out should contact either Charles May or Jose Garcia at 697-7039.

Lt. Gumke benefit cage game is set

Though the basketball season is over for all local teams, there is one game that is a must for fans. That's a benefit game between the Westland firefighters and the Detroit Lions.

The game, played for the benefit of the Lt. Al Gumke family, will be staged 8 p.m., May 22 at Westland John Glenn High School.

Lt. Gumke, a veteran of 13 years of the Westland Fire Department, died of a heart attack earlier in the month while playing hockey.

It went right down to the last relay for Romulus tracksters against Flat Rock and, unfortunately for Coach Al Wilkerson's Eagles the "photo finish" ended in a Flat Rock victory.

Both 440-yard relay teams were clocked in 47.0 seconds but the officials awarded the event to Flat Rock and that sealed a 69-63 victory.

They're champs

The Swingers had the winning touch in the Tri-City Women's Bowling tournament this season as they amassed a team score of 3211 pins to captured the 23rd running of the tournament. Members of the championship team included (seated from left) Charlene Whiteman, Mildred Holmes and Mary Guarjardo; standing are Ruth Billings and Jan Michael.

"We were playing for all the marbles in that last event," Wilkerson said. "And we lost. However, I'm proud of the way these kids performed.

"We didn't have a senior in the lineup and our boys didn't let up. We're still hammering away," Wilkerson added.

Romulus mustered five of the 16 first places with sophomore Dwayne Lee and Rodney Summers accounting for the long jump and pole vault, respectively.

Lee leaped 20 feet, 1 inch in winning the long jump and the ambitious Summers negotiated 11 feet in the pole vault, then went to 12 feet, 6 inches in an attempt to set a school record. He failed.

Romulus will return to the track on Tuesday when the Eagles take on Woodhaven at Woodhaven.

Meet results: Flat Rock 69, Romulus 63

Spartans capture wild one, 13-11

If Cherry Hill's Tri-River Conference baseball opener is any indication of what's to come, hold on to your hats, folks.

Trailing 10-5 going into the fifth inning, Coach Ken Mientkiewicz' Spartans exploded for eight runs in that inning to win a controversial 13-11 game from Riverside.

The game was called after 5½ innings by the umpires because of darkness.

"There are some conflicting league rules about incomplete games," said Mientkiewicz.

"The Riverside coach (Doug Rowe) says the game isn't a complete one. We're going to have to await the league's official ruling," Mientkiewicz.

Cherry Hill came alive in its fifth and routed three Riverside pitchers to put eight runs on the board and go ahead 13-10. Riverside scored once in the top of the sixth.

In that wild fifth, Tim Rollins ignited the rally with a walk went to second when Chuck Sisnowski singled and a walk to Richard Rimmel loaded the bases which were immediately emptied by Mark Lipinnski's three-bagger.

Jim Harrison kept things moving for the Spartans when he also walked Brian Funke also was issued a base on balls, loading the bases again.

Mark Barrons then drilled a two-run single and Mike Nyenhuis also singled.

Rollins, up for the second time in the inning, hammered a single, Rimmel then singled in the eighth run of the frame.

Lipinski picked up a double and triple and counted four runs batted in while Sosnowski wound up with two for four while Rirmel had a perfect two for two.

The victory had special significance for Mientkiewicz: it was his first as the Spartans' head coach.

Harrison, who relieved Lipinski after he had worked the first three innings, was the winning pitcher.

"The kids hit fantastically," said Mientkiewicz, and in clutch situations. They refused to quit when they were down 10-5 and id a good job battling back.

A hard-hitting Taylor Truman turned back Cherry Hill 12-7 as the winners belted three home runs, two by Joe Tennis. Ken Woosley was the winning pitcher while Sosnowski took the loss.

Brian Funke and Nyenhuis led the Spartans' attack with two hits apiece. Nyenhuis also accounted for three RBI's.

"Truman is one of the hardest hitting teams I have seen," Mientkiewicz said. "Those home runs went over our center field fence."

This house in Springfield, Illinois, was the only home Abraham Lincoln ever owned. Nevertheless, he equated the strength of the home with the strength of the government when he declared "A house divided against itself cannot stand."
From here Lincoln emerged from local politics to be counted among the most memorable of presidents. In 1844 this house cost Lincoln $1,500—a year's earnings. Still, it was considered a good buy—only five years old, with a 50 x 152 foot lot, cistern, well, privy, 30 x 13 foot barn, 18 x 20 foot carriage house and many good neighbors. "To this place and the kindness of these people," he said, "I owe everything."
Owning your own home can make a profound difference in your future and your family's. It can mean better jobs... better education... better health and recreation facilities. You can feed your meat and potato man for less at Chatham.

A recent four week price comparison survey, run by a nationally recognized research company, proved that meat prices were lowest at Chatham. Quality meat for a low price. No wonder Chatham sells more meat per store than any other supermarket chain in town.

How to buy canned and frozen corn

Canned and frozen corn are sold in many styles. Most is prepared from yellow varieties, but some white corn is also available. Both canned and frozen corn may have peppers or pimiento added for flavor or appearance. Both canned vitamins and minerals. Canned corn, however, is generally less expensive than frozen corn.

STYLES OF CANNED CORN

Cream Style: large or small pieces of kernels in a thick, creamy sauce prepared from corn, salt, sugar water, and sometimes a slight amount of starch (to assure smoothness).

Whole Kernel: substantially whole kernels packed in a relatively clear liquid.

Vacuum-packed Whole Kernels: whole kernels packed in little or no liquid.

STYLES OF FROZEN CORN

Cut Corn: whole kernels cut off the cob.

Corn on the Cob: generally uniform ears of corn.

Cream Style: similar to cream style canned corn, but little is packed.
